Introduction

The Strategic Assessment produced for the Tunbridge Wells Community Safety Partnership (CSP) helps establish priority themes for the 2021/22 Partnership Plan.

Legislation

The Crime and Disorder Act 1998 gave statutory responsibility to local authorities, the police, and key partners to reduce crime and disorder in their communities. Under this, and subsequent legislation, Community Safety Partnerships are required to carry out annual audits and to implement crime reduction strategies.

The Police and Justice Act 2006 introduced scrutiny arrangements in the form of the Crime and Disorder Scrutiny Committee, as well as introducing several amendments to the 1998 Act including the addition of anti-social behaviour (ASB) and substance misuse within the remit of the CSP strategies. Reducing reoffending was subsequently added by the Policing and Crime Act 2009. The Crime and Disorder (Formulation and Implementation of Strategy) Regulations 2007 set out further revisions to the 1998 Act.

The aim of the Strategic Assessment

The analysis of data provided by partners enables the partnership to set clear priorities for the coming year.

Part 1 provides a summary of findings from data covering the period January 2020 – December 2020 (July 2019 – June 2020 for road safety), draws some conclusions from the data and recommends the priorities for the partnership for the forthcoming financial year.

Part 2 offers a broad outline of how these priorities will be addressed as well as some specific projects that will be undertaken by the Council's community safety team and external partners.

It should be noted that some of the data provided in this document is provisional and may undergo further revision.

Part 1 – Analysis

All recorded crime

Current figures for the 12-month period January 2020 – December 2020, unless stated.

Level of Crime: 7,830 (previous period 8,608)

Peer Comparison: Best out of 12 Kent areas by population and volume

Annual Change: A reduction of 778 crimes (-9%)

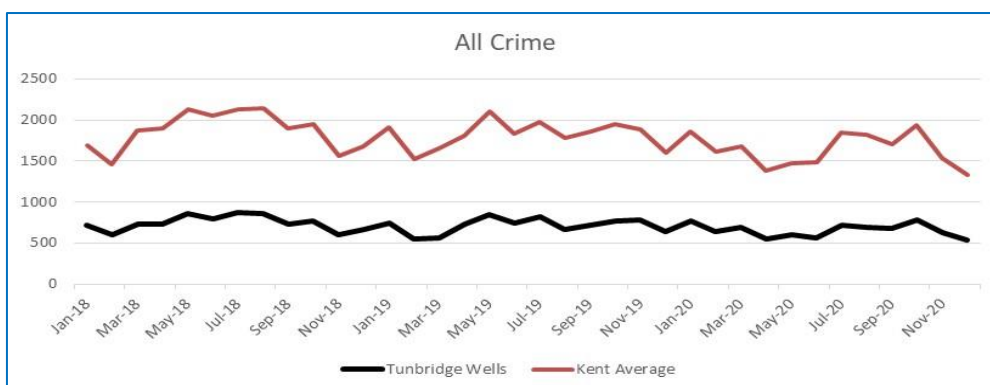

Kent comparison - per 1000 residents

Tunbridge Wells had the lowest overall crime rate in Kent for the given period, marginally ahead of our West Kent neighbours Sevenoaks and Tonbridge and Malling.

A reduction of 778 crimes builds on the reduction of 345 crimes during the previous calendar year (2019).

From the metric of 'all crime' Tunbridge Wells is the safest local authority area in Kent.

Three-year trend - per 1000 residents

The table that follows shows a breakdown of reported incidents, the increase or decrease since the last reporting period, and our county position. Subsequent pages provide further details on key crime types and a ward breakdown.

Noticeable in this data:

- A small increase in violent crime
- A smaller than expected increase in reports of domestic abuse
- A sizeable increase in anti-social behaviour

Clearly, data for this period will have been influenced by the changes we have had to make to our daily lives as a result of the pandemic and the various lockdown and post-lockdown situations our residents have endured.

While anti-social behaviour increased by 58% a great many of these reports were related to perceived breaches of COVID-19 regulations. Violent crime increased by 91 incidents (2.5%) over the preceding period following a reduction of 7.5% in 2019. Domestic abuse reports increased by 4.1%. That's half the increase we experienced in 2019 and lower than many domestic abuse professionals expected.

Conclusion

This strategic assessment sets out the priorities that the Community Safety Partnership should focus on in 2021/22 and helps us to determine what services should be funded.

Crime figures are, as always, presented with a number of caveats, particularly with respect to long-term trends. This year especially we need to be mindful of the effects the events of 2020 had on some crime and anti-social behaviour data, as well as expected seasonal trends. However, we are fortunate to live in a low crime area and we're pleased the data shows Tunbridge Wells to be the safest place in Kent; albeit by small margins over our West Kent neighbours.

The year ahead will also present some challenges. High need domestic abuse cases are likely to continue to feature for some time, putting extra strain on support workers and service providers. Financial, academic and mental health difficulties will make matters worse, particularly for families with school-aged or younger children.

Poor mental health will also play a part in how some of our younger generation are able to return to normal behaviour, and this may have a negative effect within the household, school, college or within the public realm.

Our public spaces are likely to be 'flooded' with young people as soon as conditions allow, as we saw in late summer 2020. It's important for us to prepare for this with support from partners such as Kenward Trust, St Giles Trust, Project Salus, KCC Early Help, the Community Alcohol Partnership team, and of course Kent Police in terms of reassurance and enforcement.

Our one and only nightclub, in Newton Road, has closed its doors for good, which is unfortunate, but may enable a smoother reopening of the NTE – and is likely to be replaced in time. We still have several venues with late night / early morning licences so we can be hopeful that Tunbridge Wells will again become a late night focus in the West of the county.

In terms of the seriously negative effects on our residents from outside the borough, Organised Criminal Groups and County Line issues have been somewhat muted over the past twelve months. As of February 2021 there are no notable OCGs operating in the borough, or at least none that we are aware of, it should be added, as the Serious Crime Directorate expects such a vacuum is not a true representation.

Of the three OCGs that were being worked on most recently, two have seen a combined total of five members of their groups receiving substantial prison sentences while other members are no longer active in Tunbridge Wells. The third group, a South London drug-supply OCG are believed to have targeted areas other than Tunbridge Wells.

This is testament to a very pro-active and highly effective Community Policing Team. As recently as 12 February 2021 five members of an Albanian OCG aged between 23 and 35 received sentences ranging from three to seven years for conspiracy to supply cocaine.

More broadly, people struggling with substance or alcohol addiction before the pandemic are likely to have found new habits or new ways of coping which again will change as we come out of lockdown – change for some people who will have found new coping mechanisms will not be welcomed.

By way of example, one morning in early February 2021 all the events or incidents (four) that were collated for the morning briefing were mental health related. In one incident a person was en route to the train station to "throw [themselves] under a train". They were located by patrols and went voluntarily with the crisis team to Priority House. Another person claimed to have taken a dozen paracetamol and was walking near Cranbrook wanting to end their life. Another person claimed money had been stolen from their property while in hospital and believed police were involved in the break in. The final call was from a person who had self-harmed and had called a friend rather than wake up their partner and three-year-old child.

The CSU Sergeant has worked hard to form links with the Community Mental Health Team at Highlands House to ensure regular attendance at monthly Vulnerability Board meetings. This will be vital if we are to bring relief to victims suffering from episodic or worsening mental health issues and for others who will be affected by this, such as neighbours and residents using our public spaces.

In respect of homelessness, or more specifically, rough sleeping, our Housing Team have done an incredible job engaging with very hard-to-reach individuals who were determined to maintain their lifestyles during pre-pandemic times. Managing such individuals in temporary accommodation, including local hotels etc., has taken a Herculean effort from a multitude of agencies to good effect. However, it would not be a surprise if, as COVID-19 related provisions and restrictions are reduced, we see some hardy individuals return to rough sleeping and begging in the town centre.

This year we must renew our Public Spaces Protection Orders (PSPOs) which expire in September. Orders last for a maximum of three years before they are either extended for a further three years or varied or discharged. We will begin this process early and with the benefit of a previous implementation.

Domestic Abuse

Domestic abuse calls to Kent Police were initially expected to rise significantly. While this did not happen calls to the DAVSS helpline, which often were complex and 'high need', did increase by just under 400 across the calendar year. A moderate increase in caseloads were also graded as high need and was replicated in Sevenoaks and Tonbridge and Malling, where DAVSS also provide a point-of-crisis service.

While calls to police did not increase significantly, a study in a London borough by the Centre for Economic Performance published in November 2020 showed abuse by current partners and family members did increase by 8% and 17%, respectively. Within the same timeframe ex-partner abuse declined by 11%, suggesting the average change in domestic abuse reporting during lockdown is likely misleading.

The report goes on to show that almost all the increase in domestic abuse calls to the police was driven by third party reporting, with the lockdown likely to have trapped many victims with their abuser not giving them the opportunity to report abuse.

If such metrics can be applied elsewhere then we may expect a further increase in reports of domestic abuse during 2021/22 as the country returns to some form of normal. It is perhaps timely, then, that the new DA Bill will place a greater emphasis on support for victims of domestic abuse in refuges and applications for temporary accommodation.

We recommend Domestic Abuse is retained as a priority for 2021/22.

Drug Offences

As often mentioned in these assessments our position within Kent for drug offences has never looked very impressive on paper, but it is important to note that our Community Policing Team retains a strong focus on tackling drug use and local production, as well as those wishing to traffic class A drugs into the borough from other locations, the so-called County Lines or “going country”.

We will continue to deploy outreach workers to engage with young people in open spaces and key locations in Tunbridge Wells, Paddock Wood and elsewhere. While partner agencies CGL and We Are With You (formerly Addaction) are commissioned to address drug addiction with referred adults and young people. Kenward Trust also work on our behalf in schools in respect of drug use and underage drinking.

While the risk of being a victim of violence or knife crime in this borough is very low, incidents of violence are closely linked to drug supply and alcohol abuse. We’ve included violence-related issues and knife crime in the substance abuse priority as there may be opportunities this year to put in place some actions and activities to raise awareness within schools, the night-time economy and the general public.

A 2020 report for the Home Office (‘Review of Drugs’, Professor Dame Carol Black) provides a detailed analysis of the challenges posed by drug supply and demand, including the ways in which drugs fuel serious violence.

The report highlights a series of complex issues including the long-recognised strong associations between young people being drawn into county lines and increases in child poverty, family breakdown, the numbers of children in care, school exclusions and mental health needs. Funding cuts to treatment, youth work and frontline policing over the past decade have also played a key role.

This phase one report was commissioned to inform the government’s thinking on what more can be done to tackle the harm that drugs cause. It will be interesting to see how the policy phase develops, particularly in light of funding challenges brought about by the pandemic (the report was published in February 2020).

We recommend Substance and Alcohol Abuse is retained as a priority for 2021/22.

Anti-social Behaviour

Tunbridge Wells experienced a 58% increase in anti-social behaviour over the calendar year. A breakdown of the data showed that a large proportion of the reports relate to residents reporting perceived (or real) breaches of COVID-19 regulations. For example, rowdy or nuisance gathering in public is a sub-category of anti-social behaviour and calls to police increased by 429 (110%) in 2020. However, 377 of these were given a COVID-19 tag by the call taker.

Anti-social behaviour in town centre areas is often linked to excess alcohol intake or drug use in parks, car parks and other open spaces. Coupled with sensible use of deployable CCTV, visible outreach resources such as Early Help, Salus and St Giles Trust play a key role in maintaining Tunbridge Wells as a safe place to live, work and visit.

We have included violence-related issues in this priority to ensure we are sighted on the risks to the public, and young people themselves, of anti-social behaviour escalating to more serious public disorder, particularly with the high number of teenagers and young adults who frequent town centre open spaces. The potential for violent episodes to emerge from innocent gatherings must be considered in all our plans to tackle low-level disorder or when sending outreach workers to engage with young people and young adults wherever they choose to congregate.

We recommend Anti-social Behaviour is retained as a priority for 2021/22.

Road Safety

All areas of Kent experienced a reduction in casualties over the preceding period (July-June) as perhaps expected due to the restrictions placed upon travel to and from work as well as recreational travel.

The Community Safety Partnership works to educate young people, pedestrians and other road users through school engagements, theatre and social media. We engage with Community Speed Watch who attempt, with varying degrees of success, to encourage drivers to stay within speed limits in known 'hotspot' areas and to enforce compliance, where possible, with police assistance.

Opportunities to engage with older residents and for partnership work with KFRS may return this year, and perhaps by Road Safety Week in November we can make use of the theatre for a session of performance Captain Safety for our younger residents.

Although the data does not necessarily support Road Safety as a particular priority for Tunbridge Wells, it is a concern for residents and there may be actions we can take to try to influence people's behaviour. It is also possible that the soon-to-be introduced near-miss register will generate opportunities for localised awareness-raising campaigns.

We recommend Road Safety is retained as a priority for 2021/22.

Recommended priorities for 2021/22

1. Domestic Abuse
2. Substance Misuse and Supply, and Alcohol Abuse (inc. violence-related issues and knife crime)

3. Anti-social and High-risk Behaviour (including violence-related issues)
